

Schools balance income, costs in 1983-84

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Granite City Schools' 1982-84 income apparently exceeded costs by $67,000. Director of Finance Norman Owca said in a talk to Granite City Rotarians on Tuesday.

Additional information from the state is being awaited in one account before auditors complete their review of the July-June fiscal year's accrued revenue and spending, Owca noted.

BALANCING THE BUDGET for the first time in several years, and achieving a $67,000 gain, the school system pared about $5 million from its usual yearly expenditure pattern, the club was told.

With an $8.6 million deficit, for which $7.6 million was borrowed, the district now hopes to begin eliminating its operating debt, Owca said.

The task may require five or six years, he forecast.

MORE RAPID PROGRESS can be made toward curbing debt and the related interest cost if citizens approve a working cash fund bond issue this year, Owca said in answer to a question from the audience.

In education here for 22 years and finance director for the past three years, the "lifelong local resident remarked that he likes accounting and the challenges associated with it.

Citing declining enrollment, Owca said the district's finances also have been curtailed by a variety of other factors.

AN EXAMPLE given was that, when local industries became less profitable, corporate personal property replacement taxes decreased.

Teacher payroll orders are being utilized this summer and the schools have invested $5 million received from sale of tax anticipation notes.

Real estate taxes are expected to be received later this year than in the past.

The Board of Education on Tuesday night placed $600,000 from sale of school buildings into the education fund, on loan to the education fund.

AID CUTBACKS by the federal and state governments reduced District Nine revenue by several million dollars, Owca told the club.

Although economic recovery is, under way, its effects may filter down from the U.S. and Illinois and not immediately ease the local district's financial problem, he added.

Local budget and expenditure, trimming and the start of a refinancing program have improved the outlook, although Owca continues to be known as "Dr. Gloom" by some fellow employees, he noted.

EFFORTS are continuing to ease mandates for which the state provides no money or limited funding. Mandated programs are a major part of the District Nine budget, the Rotarians were informed.

Education by its nature is labor-intensive, with salaries and benefits making up the bulk of the costs, Owca said; the 1982-83 portion was 80 percent.

Teacher pay here was described as averaging $26,268, not counting fringe benefits. Of 464 faculty members, all but 34 are at the top of the 14-year pay schedule.

One member of the audience said while voicing a question that it might be more understandable to define average teacher pay as $3,000 a month.

AVERAGE AGE of the faculty was estimated at more than 51 years, with past staff reductions primarily affecting younger teachers.

Most school districts across the nation have encountered revenue-cost imbalances, and many in Illinois owe millions of dollars, including a $5 million debt at Springfield and $3 million in the relatively affluent Belleville area, Owca reported.

Council endorses zoning of schools for the K of C

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH
of the Press-Record

In an unusual move Tuesday night, Granite City Council members approved a motion to bring in an ordinance approving a C-3 zoning change for the Knights of Columbus to use the former Johnson School.

The ordinance is to contain two conditions. First it requires the Knights of Columbus to construct a private road leading to and from the property in conjunction with the city's Melrose Drainage Project. The road is to be constructed within 18 months or the Knights will be penalized by a reduction of operation hours.

THE ORDINANCE also dictates that the Knights may not erect lights on any ball fields they construct on the property.

Confusion concerning the zoning recommendation resulted after Alderman Sharon Perjak made a motion for approval and then withdrew the motion when a representative for the Knights voiced displeasure with the wording of the recommendation.

The withdrawal of the motion was applauded by nearly 40 Melrose and Norwood Subdivision residents, but was booed loudly by almost 40 Knights of Columbus members who attended the meeting.

THEN MRS. PERJAK motioned for a five-minute recess of the council,

Zoning is contingent upon new road, no field lights

after which the ordinance motion was introduced.

The call for an ordinance is considered unusual, since most zoning decisions are simply an affirmation or a denial of the recommendation of the city's Plan Commission. The commission had recommended the approval of the zoning nearly two months ago.

Mrs. Perjak asked that the conditions of the agreement be put with the zoning change so that residents would be assured of getting the road and light restrictions. "Residents had said earlier that they wanted the time limitation on the road spelled out because they didn't want to get caught in a 'catch 22' situation," she said. "If the city does not start work on the drainage ditch within 18 months, they wanted to have some kind of agreement in writing."

MAYOR PAUL Schuler said that if things go on schedule, the drainage project will begin in the Melrose area next year. "There's no way we can absolutely guarantee that the work will begin on time, though, because the acquisition of land could delay the project," he said. "The project is in the works, however."

Aldermen Sam Whitmer and Paul Fisk, the only aldermen casting dissenting votes on the ordinance, expressed reservations about getting the city involved in an agreement between two private groups.

"We have a recommendation from the Plan Commission and we should either approve it or disapprove it," he said. "I don't want to see the city tied up in this. If we tie a darn road into it, I'm not going to vote on it."

ALDERMAN PERJAK conceded that the motion was unusual but said that the aldermen should consider the feelings of the residents. "It's easy to stand back on the other side of town and say that the Knights of Columbus facility is a great thing," she said. "But when it's in your own back yard and it's going to disrupt your life, it's a different story. We realize that the Knights have spent a lot of money on this facility and that the only way that they're going to make the operation work is for it to be open every night."

Alderman Phillip Miller said he realizes that there are some "unhappy people on both sides," but the problems were talked about in several

GC budget up $1.4 million

A $9.7 million 1984-85 budget was placed on first reading by a 10-3 vote of the members of the Granite City Council Tuesday night. The budget represents a $1.4 million increase over last year's appropriations.

Increases in the tentative budget were outlined at a public hearing before the regular city council meeting. City Comptroller Joseph Miklovic gave council members two pages of major items that would cause the increase in the budget.

PROPOSED increases include: $520,000 for sewer breaks; $350,000 for a profit-sharing bonus plan for city employees; $90,000 for machinery in the street department; $80,000 for a department reassignment in the city clerk's office; $48,000 for the library allocation; $25,000 each for the police pension and the fire pension.

$15,000 for a microfilm update of the city records in the city clerk's office and $22,000 for police cars. Department increases are the most marked in the executive branch, which lists a $1.6 million rise.

Miklovic said the large increase is a result of reassignments from other departments. For instance, he said, the executive branch this year includes what was listed last year as "omnibus" (a collection of miscellaneous expenses, including pensions), which represented a $1.1 million increase.

Arbitration talks delayed

At a special meeting last week, members of the Granite City Council moved to delay binding arbitration between the city and the fire, police and city hall workers until next month. Arbitration was to begin July 23.

After holding a closed caucus, the council members voted unanimously to continue for the next two weeks.

The discussions have been rescheduled for August 14, 15 and 16, since that is the next available time slot for the selected arbitrator, Dr. Gladys Gruenberg.

The arbitration is to decide wages and conditions of employment for the three worker groups.

Femrite to leave YMCA Aug. 10

David L. Femrite, 40, executive director of the Tri-Cities Area YMCA the past four years, will resign his duties here Aug. 10 to accept a position as director of the St. Vrain branch YMCA in Longmont, Colo.

"It is with mixed feelings that I leave I am really excited about the new opportunities, but the Tri-Cities Area YMCA has some exciting things going I would have preferred to finish I am sure the board of directors and staff will see that the YMCA here continues its upward course," Femrite said.

THE EXECUTIVE director said his new position offers growth potential. The Longmont facility is a new branch of the Boulder, Colo. YMCA and there are plans for both facilities to expand in the near future. "It is one of those opportunities you just have to take a shot at," Femrite stated.

In a letter to the Press-Record Tuesday, Femrite stated, "As I move to accept a new position with the YMCA, I'd like to express my deep gratitude and appreciation for the many, many people, members, contributors, program volunteers and the board of directors for their steadfast belief in an organization whose primary purpose is the development of people."

there. Femrite was a branch executive of the Pittsburgh, Pa. YMCA for two years before assuming the executive director's duties here.

AMONG THE MAJOR projects started by Femrite, but not yet finished, are planning for a steam line between the Granite City Steel office building and the YMCA which would use free steam donated by GC Steel to heat the building for five years or more.

He also has spearheaded efforts to finance a Nautilus Fitness Center and remodel the bottom level of the Y for the center. A capital drive is underway to finance the steam line, remodeling and necessary repairs to the building. A program of pre-selling Nautilus memberships to finance the center before the equipment is ordered also is underway.

Femrite also first suggested closing the residence center on the upper floors of the YMCA to help improve the Y's image in the community. The residence center is to close next month.

He also helped expand the outreach programs of the YMCA, including the backyard swim lessons program, he helped put new lighting in the pool area, remodel the lobby and make numerous other improvements to the building and the YMCA programs.

THE TRI-CITIES AREA YMCA has served this area proudly since 1918. The stately building at Edison and 20th Street has witnessed thousands upon thousands entering and leaving its doors since 1924. The Y, as has the community, struggled over the last few years. Yet, through the turmoil, we have grown and emerged new in service and spirit, ready to serve the community for another 60 years," Femrite concluded.

The YMCA Executive Board is to meet immediately to begin the search for an interim director and a permanent executive director to replace Femrite.

HAZARDOUS OBSTACLE. A mulberry tree in the 2000 block of Grand Avenue, damaged during the April 3 hailstorm, now blocks the public sidewalk to pedestrians, including Max Aubushon. The blind man ducks under and around the lower tree limbs on his way to work Tuesday morning. The tree, growing on city property between the sidewalk and street, presents a hazard to anyone using the sidewalk as the lower branches are now about four feet above the walkway. The person who brought this problem to the attention of the Press-Record says city officials have repeatedly been told about the hazard.

Big role by local volunteers in programs that serve thousands

(Tri-Cities Area United Way)

Voluntary services, planned and administered at the local level, have always been a vital complement to government services. Often, services provided by the voluntary sector are targeted to serve a broad range of human needs not addressed by government programs.

Some people, ineligible for government services but unable to purchase their own, often can find help through voluntary programs, such as those that form the Tri-Cities Area United Way.

Historically, government has assumed the primary responsibility for health care costs for disabled, elderly or disadvantaged individuals, plus education, financial assistance to low-income and elderly individuals, and other social services.

Within the last several years, however, federal funding for human service programs has decreased sharply.

Because of the redefined federal role in funding many of these programs, the voluntary sector has been called upon to help provide human services formerly supported only by government.

United Ways work in close cooperation with government and voluntary agencies at the local, state and federal levels in planning social services and in helping to ensure the most effective use of all available resources.

Communication between the public and private sectors is considered important because, otherwise, human services may not be targeted on the greatest community needs.

According to Janet Quarton, director of the Tri-Cities Area United Way, the local United Way strives to achieve a better balance between government and voluntary services in several ways.

"United Way works with local and state government to develop better overall systems of human services delivery," she said.

"United Ways work in coalitions with local governments to share data on community needs and priorities. And they work with state governments to develop planning and citizen participation processes for the allocation of federal block grants and state funding programs."

"With regard to voluntary organizations, United Ways emphasize the necessity of a strong voluntary sector in America."

"This goal involves developing more and better information on the voluntary sector's contributions to American society."

"As a result, United Ways, on their own and in coalitions with others, stimulate information and research gathering toward this end."

"United Ways continuously monitor public policies to support legislation that enhances the voluntary sector and to defend the sector from legislation with potentially damaging effects. This involves assessing and analyzing the impact on the voluntary sector of new programs and laws."

"Also, United Ways play an active part in shaping the future role of the voluntary sector. This requires re-examination of the accountability of voluntary organizations to themselves and the communities which they serve."

"And United Ways try to strengthen volunteer involvement in local decision-making on the use of government monies in programs such as revenue sharing, block grants, and the formula distribution of funds."

"KULPRIT," a Granite City rock group, who will perform Saturday night during the annual Cahokia Mound Scout Council's weekend "Creek Crash" activities for Explorers at Camp Sunnen, near Potosi, Mo. ## COLLINSVILLE RESIDENT CHARGED WITH DUI HERE

An officer "baited" a vehicle at Madison and Niedringhaus avenues at 3:53 a.m. Tuesday and warned the driver and a passenger to park the auto and walk home. A few moments later, he alleged seeing Veral E. Gibson, 25, of Collinsville driving the auto north in the 2100 block alley between Grand and Madison avenues.

After stopping the vehicle at Grand Avenue and 23rd Street, Gibson was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol.

Julie, age 17, wants a home

Julie is an attractive seventeen year old girl with a beautiful smile. "She takes pride in her appearance and usually looks very neat," according to Kathy Rahm, resource development specialist with the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services. This summer, Julie is participating in a job training program. Considered to be bright, she has already graduated from high school and would like to attend a junior college in the fall.

"Julie needs foster parents who would encourage her interest in completing her education in business. Julie has ability, but does not always apply herself. She lacks self discipline and motivation. Most of Julie's problems are the result of her mild abuse of alcohol and drugs," according to Kathy Rahm.

"Julie's parents have rejected her. They fought constantly and there was some indication of physical abuse. Her parents have their own personality problems and cannot cope with Julie's rebellious behavior."

"She would like to be reunited with her family but she cannot change her parents' behaviors. The rejection has affected Julie's self esteem. Julie needs a foster parent or foster parents who will be firm and consistent, yet loving. Julie's foster family would have to support her participation in a treatment program."

"Like many teenagers, Julie enjoys playing her stereo and attending rock music concerts. Graduating from high school, despite a troubled personal life, shows the amount of strength present in her. Julie needs a foster family who can help channel this strength in positive directions."

"Julie may never be able to live with her family. She will need a foster home that will offer her love and acceptance now and prepare her to live independently."

"The Illinois Department of Children and Family Services needs foster homes for children from infancy to young adulthood. Homes are needed for children from a wide range of racial and ethnic backgrounds."

"Foster parents choose the age range, sex and racial background of the children they will care for."

"The department pays a monthly board rate ranging from $200 for an infant to $247 for a child over 12 years of age. Medical, dental and pharmaceutical costs are paid separately by the State of Illinois."

"Foster homes must be licensed by the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services. Licensing requirements and more detailed information on Julie and the foster care program can be obtained by calling Jane Heathcote at 878-8985."

after recognition of a $16.9 million non-recurring charge associated with the proposed sale of 50 percent of NII's steel subsidiary to Nippon Kokan, K.K. (NKK), and a dividend of $3.9 million on preferred stock.

This compares to a loss of $99.2 million, or $5.26 per share, in the second quarter last year which included a $100 million write-off related to sale of the former Weirton Steel Division.

The non-recurring charge of $16.9 million is due to the strong earnings of the steel group, increasing its book value above the selling price established as of Dec. 31, 1983, and represents the transfer of 50 percent of that value from NII's balance sheet.

In the first half of 1984, NII's net income totaled $32.3 million, or $1.21 per share of common stock, compared to a loss of $134.6 million, or $7.19 per share, in the first half of 1983.

NII's net sales in the second quarter increased 15 percent to $794.9 million, compared to $690.4 million in the 1983 second quarter, excluding sales pertaining to the former Weirton division.

For the first six months of 1984, sales increased 25 percent to $1.6 billion versus $1.2 billion, excluding sales of Weirton Steel.

Howard M. "Pete" Love, chairman and chief executive officer of NII, said, "The continuing solid improvement in results by all of our business units is further evidence of the benefits of operating efficiencies brought about by the recent restructuring of our company and stronger demand for our products and services."

"During the first six months of 1984, net working capital and total assets have shown marked improvement and long-term debt has been reduced."

"With the anticipated completion of the joint venture with NKK in the third quarter, NII's cash position will increase substantially, positioning our company for steadier earnings growth, further diversification and improvement in return on equity."

National's Steel Group earned an operating profit of $33.7 million in the second quarter, compared to an operating profit of $9.4 million in the second quarter of 1983. This marks the fifth consecutive quarter of operating profits for the steel group.

Year-to-date operating profits totaled $39.4 million, reflecting stronger demand for flat-rolled sheet products and the benefits of cost improvement programs. This compares to an operating loss of $19.6 million in the same period of 1983.

Results for the second quarter and year-to-date period of 1984 include gains of $7.9 million and $12.1 million, respectively, from the liquidation of LIFO inventories (last in, first out).

National's steel shipments and sales in the second quarter of 1984 were 1.3 million tons and $583.7 million, respectively, compared to one million tons and $485.3 million in the second quarter of 1983.

Steel production in the second quarter was 1.3 million tons, compared to 1.2 million tons in last year's second quarter.

Year-to-date steel shipments and sales were 2.3 million tons and $1.1 billion, respectively, versus 1.9 million tons and $0.9 billion in the 1983 period.

Production in the first six months of 1984 totaled 2.6 million tons, versus 2.2 million tons in the 1983 period. Shipments, sales and production for 1983 have been related to exclude the former Weirton Steel Division results.

Even though there has been a slackening in third quarter orders, operating results for the Steel Group are expected to remain profitable in both the third and fourth quarters of this year, NII said.

The company also has energy, aluminum, distribution, financial and diversified groups.

ALLEGED GC TAVERN OPEN AFTER THE CLOSING TIME

After officers noticed vehicles around T. J.'s Tavern, 1539 Madison Ave., at 2:40 a.m. Tuesday, they went inside and alleged seven people were seated at the bar with drinks and money on the counter.

They advised patrons to leave and arrested the owner, Thomas L. Worthen, 30, of 170 Sandy Shores Mobile Home Park, charging him with violating the tavern-closing hours ordinance. He was released on $52 bail.

School superintendents honor Sen. Vadalabene

State Senator Sam M. Vadalabene has been presented with a "Friend of Education Award" by the Illinois Association of County Superintendents of Schools.

Vadalabene received the honor at the annual banquet of the Association in Springfield. The presentation was made by the president-elect of the organization, R. D. Peck, regional superintendent of Knox County.

In accepting the award, Vadalabene recalled that the association had previously honored him in 1969 with an outstanding legislator award, with further recognition on several other occasions during his 10 years as a legislator. Vadalabene said he is especially pleased that he had been named for this award on an all-Illinois basis, requiring the votes of superintendents all over Illinois. "It signifies that the things I have tried to accomplish for our schools all over the state have been recognized," said the senator.

"It is critical that we preserve local decision-making in our schools, but it is equally vital to realize that an enlightened public is composed of studious citizens," he added.

"They make the best voters, the most productive workers, the most successful parents, and most of all, the thoughtful citizens who sow the seeds of the future."

Ragtime Gals raise money for hospice, mobile meals

What has 20 legs, can sing and dance, and gives money to the Hospice and Mobile Meals programs at St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City? It's Ruthie's Ragtime Gals, 10 senior citizens who have pooled their talents for the purpose of entertaining people and donating their profits to the two programs at SEMC.

The troupe has performed throughout the St. Louis metropolitan and southern Illinois areas and is booked up for the year.

Four of the members belong to the SEMC Auxiliary and one of them, Helen Bergfield, has been president of the organization nine different times.

Mrs. Bergfield is currently treasurer of the SEMC Auxiliary Coffee Shop. A former member of the Granite City Board of Education, she has been a member of the hospital auxiliary for 25 years.

Mrs. Bergfield said the Gals first began to perform together about six months ago. The group features Ruth Evans on the piano, and the remaining members sing and dance.

According to Mrs. Bergfield, the group does not charge for its performances, but it does accept donations. The members cover the expenses out of the contributions and donate the remaining funds to SEMC's Hospice and Mobile Meals programs.

Mrs. Bergfield said it was decided to give the money to SEMC's programs because "we don't need it. Besides, we're vitally interested in both." To date, the Gals have donated $100 to each program.

Some of the group's routines feature imitations of Miss Piggy and Michael Jackson. Members perform popular favorites such as "New York, New York" and "Hello, Dolly," and they always close their shows with a medley of patriotic numbers, including an audience sing-along of "God Bless America."

The Gals, who range in age from 58 to 83, say they enjoy their shows as much as their audiences do. "We have a lot of fun," said Mrs. Bergfield. "Our show is just as corny as it can be."

CHILDREN'S ZOO REARING PAIR OF RHESUS MONKEYS

Two one-month-old Rhesus monkeys have been received by the St. Louis Zoo for hand-rearing. The Rhesus Macaque is the species of monkey that has been most frequently kept in zoos. In its native land of India, Rhesus monkeys inhabit forest and mountainous regions as well as cultivated lands. In 1939, the Rh factor was detected in this monkey — hence its name. The monkeys will be on display in the Children's Zoo Nursery until fall.

Next instant game to offer $1 million cash

The Illinois State Lottery Control Board on Monday approved a lottery $1 instant game in which the grand prize winner will receive $1 million in one lump sum, rather than over 20 years.

Michael J. Jones, lottery superintendent, said the new game, "One Million Cash," will go on sale throughout Illinois in late summer when the tickets of the current instant game, "Pay Day," are sold out. "One Million Cash" will be the first instant game in any United States lottery in which the grand prize winner will receive his or her prize in a lump sum payment, minus federal and state withholding taxes of approximately 22.5 percent (20 percent federal withholding and 2.5 percent Illinois withholding).

Jones said, "The uniqueness of the lump sum prize will add considerable excitement to the One Million Cash game."

"This innovation should help continue the trend of increased game sales which began about three years ago."

The lottery superintendent noted that, in addition to the $1 million cash grand prize in "One Million Cash," there will be ten tickets worth $100,000 instantly.

Other instant prizes include a free ticket, $2, $5, $25, $50 and $100. Total value of the game's prize pool, including the value of free tickets awarded, will be in excess of $34 million, and the odds of winning something in the game are better than one in four.

All previous Illinois State Lottery instant games have awarded grand prize winners $1 million through 20-year annuities paying $50,000 a year.

Jones said an analysis by the lottery's auditors indicated that the after-tax portion of the $1 million cash grand prize, if invested wisely, could yield to the winner at least $50,000 a year indefinitely, without reducing the principal amount.

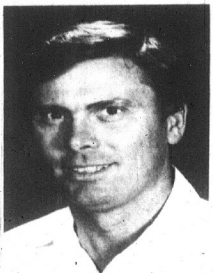

He noted that future Illinois lottery instant games may or may not feature the $1 million cash grand prize, depending on the success of "One Million Cash."

To play the game, players rub off a "prize box" which will show a prize category. Players then rub off three "play spots," which will each contain a single-digit number. If the three numbers add up to seven, 11, or 21, the player wins the amount in the prize box.

Pontoon Village Board takes first step to replace resigning President

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
of the Press-Record

Although no replacement for resigning Pontoon Beach Village Board President Paul Bennett was chosen Tuesday night, village trustees did pass an amendment to an ordinance clarifying the procedure for filling vacancies in the president's office.

The trustees unanimously approved an amendment that would allow them to name one of the board members as acting board president should a vacancy occur when there are still at least 28 months left in the term and no general municipal election is scheduled for at least 130 days. That member will serve until a new president is elected during the general election, which will be in April 1985.

BENNETT ANNOUNCED that he would resign as president during the last village board meeting July 10. Bennett must give up the position because of his plans to move in with his parents in Mitchell. His last official meeting will be Aug. 14, at which time it is expected a new president will be chosen by the trustees.

Before the approval of Tuesday night's amendment, the ordinance required that a special election to determine the new board president be conducted within six months of a vacancy.

In other action during Tuesday night's meeting, the board discussed an ordinance pertaining to business licenses. Two out-of-town subcontractors have applied for business licenses to do work on a residence in the village. Wording of the ordinance requires that they obtain a business license for $50 per year to do work within the village.

BENNETT DISAGREED with the requirement. "When we passed our ordinance, I don't think it was the intent to require licenses from every individual who comes into town to do a job."

Bennett told the board that most subcontractors are licensed in their own municipalities. The board granted the licenses and decided to consider an amendment to the business license ordinance at a future meeting.

A visit from South-Western Cable TV, Ltd., officials prompted discussion by board members and village attorney Robert Hennessey.

HENNESSEY TOLD cable officials that when the trustees granted the franchise contract, they understood that they were to receive three percent of the revenue from all services offered by the company beginning in January. Instead, he said, the village is receiving only three percent of the revenues from basic cable television services and not from pay movie channels and special channels.

Cable officials said they would investigate the matter and report back to the board.

A $500 donation to the Belleville Area College Senior Aides Program also was approved by the trustees.

Promotion for Monroe Brewer

Monroe F. Brewer Jr., former city engineer for Granite City, has been named manager of the Division of Maintenance, Roads and Grounds, and Utility Distribution in the Department of Physical Facilities at Washington University.

Brewer worked in Granite City from 1973 to 1984. Previously, he worked for the St. Louis County Public Works Department and the Missouri State Highway Department. He spent three years in the U.S. Navy as a civil engineer.

He graduated from Washington University with a bachelor of science degree in civil engineering in 1965 and obtained a master of science degree in civil engineering from the University of Missouri-Rolla in 1975.

He is married, has three children and lives at 4065 Highwillow Drive in Florissant, Mo.

Revenue sharing budget approved

Members of the Granite City Council unanimously passed a resolution Tuesday night providing for the 1984-85 general revenue sharing funds.

The budget, a total of $409,500, will be used in conjunction with the city's general budget.

Money allocations in the budget include: $500 for the publication of city laws and changes and the remaining $409,000 will be used for payroll in the city's public safety and public works departments.

Minister asks Venice council to aid families without electricity

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

An emotional appeal for help for those persons without fans or lights because they are unable to pay electrical bills, and revised personnel policies for employees of the McKinley Toll Bridge were issues brought to the attention of aldermen at Tuesday night's meeting of the Venice City Council.

The Rev. John Henry Williams, pastor of New Salem Baptist Church, told the aldermen, "Imagine how it feels, especially for little children and women, lying there at night with no lights, sweating and mosquito biting."

"This is happening here. It is a city-wide thing. There are quite a few people sleeping in the dark and I think the council should be aware of them," the minister said.

"A lot of these people won't come forward and say anything. They are ashamed and embarrassed because their electricity has been turned off," he explained.

"I am concerned because of the children who can't sleep at night because there is no fan in the house. A newborn baby that comes home (from the hospital) and can't sleep because of the heat."

"We do have a problem, and something really needs to be done. People don't have enough money to come up with a down payment to get their electricity turned on, if it has been shut off," Rev. Williams said.

"I really don't know what to say. I have lost my answers," Mayor Tyrone Echols responded. "The city does not have the revenue to get into this kind of business, but if there are any fruitful suggestions, I am willing to listen."

The mayor noted the community has lost several programs which were set up to help in distressed situations.

"We had a clinic here that could help the people that only cost $10 a visit. But the people wouldn't go there and we lost it," he explained.

Williams questioned what part Venice Township could play in this type of situation. "Where does the township come in? Don't they concern themselves if there are hazardous health conditions? Isn't there some type of emergency fund to provide assistance when there is a health problem?" he asked.

Mayor Echols suggested the general public "get on the backs of their congressmen and senators. They are the ones in control that can remedy this situation and it is election time."

Commenting that the township probably is short of money also, the mayor said the township board and supervisor establish their own priorities.

Third Ward Alderman John Ervin contended that "most townships take care of these things, but our township doesn't seem to take care of them."

Fourth Ward Alderman Victor Valentine Sr. brought similar conditions to the mayor's attention in a recent two-hour conversation. Mayor Echols said.

Valentine stated at the meeting, "In dealing with Illinois Power in the past four years, I've found them very instrumental in helping me in some cases where the lights have been cut off."

"I think these people (who are ashamed to report conditions) should think about their kids and not their pride when kids are in 110 degree heat. Anyone in the Fourth Ward in this situation who will come forward, I'll try to help them and it will be confidential," he said.

In other business, the council adopted a resolution replacing a previous policy statement concerning McKinley Toll Bridge employees. The first such official policies regarding the toll bridge employees were adopted in February 1983.

The main thrust of the new policies appear to focus on the elimination of a "paid bonus day off" segment for above average work, included in the earlier policy statement, and the referral to the Bridge Committee of the Board of Aldermen cases of non compliance with rules and regulations of on-the-job conduct.

The previous procedural statements allowed Bridge Manager Tom Fields to immediately suspend for prescribed period of time any toll collector caught purposefully punching an incorrect amount on the toll booth button box.

Referrals to the aldermanic committee also are required in instances where employees are in possession of drugs or alcohol, or any lethal weapon.

In response to a question from First Ward Alderman Phillip Daniels regarding the elimination of bonus days off, Fields said this aspect of the policy procedures has presented many problems. "It was controversial and it didn't improve things that much," he added.

A second resolution permitted the transfer of an existing streetlight from the west side of Fourth Street, just north of the Terminal Railroad Association underpass, to an alley at the rear of the new senior citizens' center.

Aggravated liberties with girl, 6, alleged

Charged with two counts of aggravated indecent liberties with a child, Robert Earl Spainhower, 46, of 809 rear Greenwood St., Madison, was arrested Tuesday night. Bond at the Madison County jail was set at $100,000.

The investigation was handled by Madison city police, the Illinois Division of Criminal Investigation and Assistant State's Attorney Randy Massey.

Massey said the investigation centered on Spainhower and a six-year-old Madison girl.

If convicted, Massey could be sentenced to up to 60 years in prison, authorities said. He was sentenced in 1978 to a prison term of four to six years in a case involving a child.

Prior to Tuesday's arrest, he was taken into custody in Madison on Saturday and remained in jail here Sunday.

Three injured at Route 162-Nameoki

Three men were injured Monday night when the driver of one vehicle rear-ended another vehicle and pushed the car into the intersection of Route 162 and Nameoki Road.

According to the Illinois State Police, a westbound car driven by Ronald L. Brooks, 23, of Alton, was waiting at a red light when a second car driven by Gary M. Gibbons, 31, of 915 Reynolds St., Madison, allegedly struck the Brooks vehicle from rear.

Brooks and a passenger, Wayne E. Brooks, 25, of East St. Louis, were taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Gibbons was taken to SEMC, transferred to Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, and then returned to the local hospital.

Multiple charges are pending against one of the drivers, ISP officers said.

News notes

After two incidents in which persons climbed trees to gain access to the Madison County jail, it is planned to preserve the trees but trim their limbs and foliage. One tree is on county property and two others are partly on the jail site.

A 30-day jail term is to start tomorrow for D.J. Dellart, 28, of the Madison area. Associate Judge Thomas Hildebrand ruled he was in contempt of court for failing $20,400 behind in child support payments. The man hopes to obtain a delay in the sentence and notes that he has changed jobs.

Bi-State buses had 1.4 million fewer riders in 1983-84 than July 1982-June 1983 but an increase that began in February is continuing. The yearly totals were 48.1 million and then 46.7 million. Passengers averaged 166,280 each weekday last month, compared to 154,850 on weekdays in June 1983.

BOOK ST. LOUIS MAN HERE ON DUI CHARGE

Leonard A. Ventimiglia, 39, of St. Louis was charged by Granite City aldermen with driving under the influence of alcohol when his vehicle was stopped at Woodlawn Avenue and Vine Boulevard by a Madison County deputy sheriff at 3:45 a.m. Tuesday.

Ventimiglia declined to take a breathalyzer test, reports alleged. He was released after posting a $302 cash bond.

ITEMS TAKEN FROM VAN

Thirty-six cassette tapes worth a total of $300, an in-dash AM-FM cassette player valued at $150 and an equalizer unit worth $50 were stolen from the van of Pam Burnett, 3572 Parkway Drive, she reported at 6:30 a.m. Tuesday. A window was broken to get inside the vehicle, which was parked in the 2500 block of the Town and Country Apartments.

meetings. "We had representatives from both sides and we did come to an agreement — good, bad or indifferent," he said. "I just hope everyone works together on this."

Alderman Fisk questioned the legal ramifications of the ordinance, if the city is not able to start the drainage project on schedule. "Would the Knights then be able to sue the city over this thing?" he asked.

IRVIN C. SLATE, one of the city's attorneys, said he would have to see the final draft of the ordinance before he could accurately answer that question. "Anybody can sue the city at any time for any thing — and they've been doing it pretty regularly," he said. "But if the city shows good faith in getting the drainage project started, I see no problem."

After the vote, Fisk said he wanted to clarify the reason why he did not vote for the ordinance. "I don't want to see the city obligated," he said. "I agree and I think everyone agrees that the people in Melrose need drainage. But all of the other residents in the city that need drainage had to pay for their own. I know they did in my ward."

"I think the users in that area should pay for the drainage. I will not vote to obligate my people to pay for their drainage. This is putting the people in Briarcliff and the Knights in a bad situation."

THE FINAL DRAFT of the ordinance will be reviewed for final approval at a special meeting Monday at City Hall. At the 7 p.m. meeting, council members also will discuss the budget and bids for roof repair at the street department.

Official opening of Venice senior center is on Sunday

By VALERIE EVENED
of the Press-Record

An official ribbon-cutting ceremony opening the new Venice Senior Community Center at Klein and Brown streets in Venice will take place at 4 p.m. Sunday, July 29, it was announced by Mayor Tyrone Echols at Tuesday night's meeting of the Venice City Council.

All Venice residents, especially senior citizens, are being invited to join city officials in inaugurating the center, Mayor Echols said.

The long-awaited center has been completed in the past month, except for some minor revisions by the contractor and the acquisition of tables, chairs and other basic furnishings.

Earlier this month, the Southwestern Illinois Area Agency on Aging approved a $6,600 grant to the center for the purchase of 200 stacking chairs, 25 folding tables, a refrigerator, gas range and ice making machine. The action cleared the way for the center to start operating.

The 3,800-square-foot masonry veneer structure is 94 feet long by 32 feet wide at its center. The building narrows to an 14-foot kitchen area at the rear and an eight-foot entranceway.

A bid to construct the building was awarded to the Korte-Plocher Construction Co. of Highland in November 1983. The firm submitted the lowest base bid of $198,305 over three other bidders.

Fleming Corp., a St. Louis firm of architects, engineers and planners, was responsible for the building's design and engineering work.

Some controversy arose over the proposed center's construction in 1982, but the issue was resolved at a public hearing in December 1982 when 64 residents, many senior citizens, voiced their support of the proposal, while 12 opposed the move.

The Venice City Council authorized the use of $73,000 in Community Development funds with $109,000 previously earmarked for construction of a new senior community center in December 1982.

In other action at Tuesday night's session, the aldermen gave permission to a request from the Silver Bell Seniors for transportation expenses to attend a Cardinal baseball game Aug. 1 and the Illinois State Fair in Springfield on Aug. 15.

The resignation of Thomas W. Britt, a Venice fire truck driver for the past 22 years, effective July 31, was accepted.

Mayor Echols announced a $15,000 performance bond has been received from South Western Cable TV, L.L.C. (Carolina Communications, Inc.).

"I guess things are now under way," the mayor said. After three years of disappointment, haggling and promises from several cable firms, the council granted a franchise to Southwestern to install cable television in the community last April.

Representatives of District 2 communities and townships (the Quad-City area) will convene at 9 a.m. Friday in the office of Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler to determine allocations of Community Development funds, Mayor Echols said.

At an earlier meeting, it was announced that total funds for District 2 for the next funding period — Oct. 1, 1984, through Sept. 30, 1985 — amounts to $537,540.

The Venice mayor speculated recently the community may get between $55,000 and $60,000, but the method of distribution was not made clear at a workshop he attended, the mayor said.

District 2 includes the communities of Venice, Granite City, Madison and Pontoon Beach and the townships of Granite City, Nameoki, Chouteau and Venice.

(because it was not listed separately last year); pump station—nothing was listed in either budget; humane—$2,968 increase and omnibus—$1,172,000 decrease because of its reassignment into executive.

The ordinance will be placed on final passage at a special meeting at 7 p.m. Monday at City Hall.

STATE STATUTES require that the ordinance be passed by the end of the first quarter, which is July 31. Council members voting against the tentative budget were Aldermen Sam Whitmer, Casmer Skubish and Carl Kittel.

Those voting for the budget were Aldermen Fred "Pat" Schuman, Paul Fisk, Phillip Miller, Sharon Perjak, Jake Varadian, Lloyd Bailey, Woodrow "Woody" Mead, Stephen Saltich, Michael Modrusic and Paul Ray Bowler.

ALDERMAN Everett Morien was not present at the meeting due to illness.

ALLEGED DRUG POSSESSION
Pamela K. Craig, 24, of 108 Abbott St., Venice, was charged with possession of a controlled substance in a warrant served by Granite City police at 8:40 p.m. Monday. Her vehicle initially was stopped by Madison officers in the 1000 block of Madison Avenue and she was cited for speeding.

3-year pact at Nestle plant

A three-year contract, ratified Saturday by Machinists, went into effect Monday at the Nestle Company, Inc., instant tea plant in Granite City.

It provides a substantial pay increase, improved vacations, changes in company-paid insurance and new contract language on employment conditions, including seniority.

The pact affects 180 persons and covers the bulk of the production staff. The plant also has about six operating engineers.

Announcement of the contract approval was made by Charles W. Damm, a business representative of District Nine, International Association of Machinists.

The IAM negotiating committee consisted of Chief Steward Pat Ritz and Frank Porch, Kevin Green and Lois Phillips.

Roger Higgins, plant manager, said planning is continuing for new tea bagging equipment that will be installed this year.

An addition will utilize part of the plant parking lot. Additional parking will be provided on a portion of the idle Emerson School campus, which was acquired by Nestle this spring.

How to save money on your grocery bills

Here are some important shopping tips

- 1—Check specials in food store advertisements.
- 2—Get to know the butcher and produce manager.
- 3—Find out when deliveries of perishables are made and shop on those days. Fresher foods last longer and consequently, you'll waste less.
- 4—Learn to estimate accurately the amounts of food needed. Keep a record of the amount of food you throw away in a week. It may alert you to ways you can reduce waste.
- 5—For economy and variety, use eggs, dry beans, and peanut butter in place of meat some of the time. These foods provide protein and most other nutrients that meat supplies.
- 6—Use nonfat dry milk, which is less expensive than fluid milk, at least part of the time in cooking and as a beverage.
- 7—By law, economy sizes of non-food items must save you at least 5% over other sizes of the same brand.
- 8—Try to shop as seldom as possible, preferably once a week.
- 9—Always shop with a well thought out shopping list. Try to base your list of foods on your menu for the week.
- 10—Take advantage of the special coupon offers going on at First Granite City Savings in conjunction with your local Schnuck's grocer.

Late taxes cause cash-flow problem for GC Park District

By DONNA KIMBRO
of the Press-Record

Temporary financial problems within the Granite City Park District were of prime concern of the park commissioners Wednesday night as they discussed the late payment of a replacement tax check, and the anticipated tax monies for the forthcoming year.

A letter dated July 12 from the Illinois Department of Revenue stated the park district would receive $57,814 this month, but it has not yet arrived. This sum is designated for the monthly expenditures of the district.

The gloomy outlook will not improve, since tax bills are not expected to be mailed on time, so the park district does not expect to receive any real estate tax monies until November.

"If we could get the money as predicted we would not have a problem," Board President George Sykes announced.

A brief discussion was conducted on the procedures for bonds or tax anticipation warrants, but no final decision was made.

An audit report, submitted by Monroe Worthen, was acknowledged and approval was granted by the board members to pay the audit fee of $3,550.

Matt Melucci, financial consultant hired by the Park District board to seek possible grants for a proposed new swimming pool, addressed the board and gave his report.

He informed the members that grants are not available on such a short notice, but the board may apply for Community Development funds for future park projects on a long-range plan.

In any future program, the board should prepare all information and submit its report for a target date of three years later, as it takes about two to three years to secure these grants, Melucci summarized.

Board Member Nancy Sanders asked if there would be a fund or grant available for the pool is made available to the handicapped.

"Yes, there is, and when you have architectural drawings for the new facility showing the access ramps or steps for the handicapped, you may be able to draw on funds for that purpose," Melucci replied. He did not elaborate on the possible total grant.

Services were conducted at 10 a.m. today, July 26, at St. John Lutheran Church, 2901 St. Clair Ave., the Rev. Samuel Boda officiating. Burial was at St. John Cemetery, 2901 Nameoki Road.

Friends called earlier at Randall A. Irwin Chapel for Funerals, 2801 Madison Ave.

available to the district.

In conclusion, Melucci told the board members it would be to their advantage to be prepared with specific plans and documents for future programs. When grant money is not available, the district could become a recipient of funds they would otherwise be denied because of a time element in preparing the requests.

Sykes replied, "I am not surprised that we cannot secure grant money this quickly, but I think we better look ahead for future needs of the district."

On a split vote, board members denied permission to a softball team from Edwardsville, to play a team from Belleville on the Fehling Road field tomorrow night. Teams using the field are required to pay the Granite City school district $21 for use of lights and use of the field. Jeff Worthen made a motion the team be allowed to use the field if they also paid the park district $25 to prepare the area. Worthen and Sykes voted yes and Jack Hood and Nancy Sanders voted no, thereby defeating the motion.

At this point the board went into closed session with the statement they would reconvene the meeting until Monday, July 30, at 7 p.m. for final passage of the budget for the forthcoming year.

Suit speeds completion of assessment books

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH
of the Press-Record

Legal action taken by Madison County officials last week to force 10 township assessors to turn in their assessment books has resulted in a turnover of books by at least one assessor.

Granite City Township Assessor Von Dee Cruse said Tuesday that he spoke with the County Supervisor of Assessments James Barton Monday morning and brought in his books before the deadline.

CRUSE SAID earlier that he had not been aware of the court complaint, but that he wished to cooperate completely with the county. The suit notes that townships were to have turned in their assessment books by April 15.

Barton said he has received one other call since the suit's filing, from the assessor in Pin Oak Township, and that he would be turning in his books in immediately.

Barton said he hopes the complaint will prompt the other eight township officials to get their books turned in. "Although the assessors are just one step in the cycle, they are the first step and without the books, the process cannot continue," he said.

HE SAID MOST of the townships have not finished their assessments because they have to use last year's tax worksheets. But Barton said that the township officials are required by law to use their duplicate worksheets from the previous year if new sheets are not available.

Barton said the only disadvantage to using the old books is that the assessors must call him and find out what the multiplier is, so they can calculate the taxes. "It's really no problem to use the old books," he said. "It just requires one phone call."

He said the law requiring the use of last year's books was designed to speed up the process. He said the new tax books cannot be prepared until the Madison County Board of Review completes all of its tax appeal hearings from the previous year.

He said the law requiring the use of last year's books was designed to speed up the process. He said the new tax books cannot be prepared until the Madison County Board of Review completes all of its tax appeal hearings from the previous year.

ACCORDING TO Barton, the Board of Review, ideally, is to be finished with the hearings by November, so that the new tax books can be issued in January. "But the increasing number of appeals has pushed back the books' issuance," he said.

Barton said when the Board of Review finishes its rulings on the individual parcels of property, these findings are incorporated into the new books. But he said that this should not create a hold-up in the figuring of the taxes, since each assessor should reevaluate each piece of property every year.

He said the late return of the books will delay the tax process even further next year, since property owners have 30 days after the publication of the assessments to file a grievance. "This will mean that the Board of Review will get an even later start on the hearings for this year and, depending on the number of grievances, will further delay things next year," he said.

PART OF THE problem seems to be that the Board of Review consists of only three members and they are faced with an estimated 12,000 tax appeal hearings each year. County officials are exploring the possibility of placing the Board of Review on a full-time basis or expanding the board to six members, so that the grievances can be dealt with more quickly.

Another possible way of speeding up the tax process is the issuance of estimated bills. These bills would be based upon 50 percent of the previous year's property tax payment. The second payment would be adjusted to make up the difference between the estimated bill and the actual bill and would be sent out when the tax procedure is completed.

TAX BILLS for 1983 are not expected to be mailed until late August. The delay has had a noticeable effect on local school districts, which receive more than 50 percent of the property taxes. Borrowing from banks has been necessary to keep many school districts operating until taxes arrive.

Davis hearing to resume

A closed hearing on former School Superintendent B.J. Davis began Monday evening and will be resumed at 7:30 p.m. Monday, July 30.

He was dismissed June 29 after nearly 18 years as superintendent of Granite City District Nine.

Appearing with him at the hearing was his attorney, Robert Wells of Belleville. They seek an explanation of points cited by the board when it discharged the administrator.

Davis is to be paid for the 1984-85 year. He has not yet indicated whether he will serve as a classroom teacher or serve with no specific duties.

In other business, the Board of Education heard a detailed explanation by Finance Director Norman S. Owca of the district's computerized financial system.

Owca said any delay in implementing monthly fund encumbrance and balance reports resulted from his attention to other duties. He praised Data Processing Director Monte L. Kessler for Kessler's role in computerizing records and procedures.

Starting with the new fiscal year, 1984-85, board members will receive regular updates on spending levels and available funds.

The finance director said he is starting work on an amended '84-85 budget and hopes to complete the tentative proposal by mid-August for Aug. 21 consideration. The board last winter adopted 1983-84 budget figures for the new year in order to permit second-year tax borrowing.

Owca and Kessler attended Monday night's special meeting along with five board members, a half-dozen spectators, and Supt. Frank L. Kraus, Personnel Administrator Terry N. Sales, W. Richard Brinkhoff, the district's new instructional services administrator, and Attorneys William Schooley Jr. and Ill.

Board members participating were Pres. David Partney, Sec. Thomas Mlotfsky, Treas. Kelly Hogan, Mrs. Ruth Lahr and Alan Crider.

Dewey Melton was on vacation and Monroe Worthen was absent due to a leg injury received in a fall. Possible policy changes were studied at a committee session and may be considered at the next regular board meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 7.

A meeting is being set for next week to continue contract negotiations with teachers. Bargaining talks with custodians were conducted Tuesday.

School building sale proceeds of $600,000, were designated for the building fund, with transfer to the education fund authorized.

Both Divers, Swimmers Win Paddlers' stomp Summersport; eye SWISA

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Gearing up for the Southwestern Illinois Swimming Association championships which begin this weekend, Paddlers' Swim Club swimmers and diving teams easily defeated once mighty Summersport Tuesday.

Competing in the familiar surroundings of their own facility, Paddlers' divers handily defeated Summersport 56-16 while its swimmers had an equally easy time, winning 362-264.

For the second time this year, Paddlers' divers dominated competitions like few teams have. The divers, under the direction of Gayle McCormick, picked up first-place finishes in all eight divisions of competition. The first time the divers monopolized on the coveted blue ribbons was two weeks ago against Sunset Hills of Wedgwood, a meet they won 51-15.

"SURE IT'S a boost for the kids to finish first in every event and it may help us in the (SWISA) championships," McCormick said.

However, McCormick, who is in her 13th season as Paddlers' diving coach, talked frankly about her team's chances of retaining its SWISA championship as it prepares for Saturday's championship.

"If we dive well we could pull off another championship, but all of our kids have to be at their best. We've got to be at our best form. We can't afford a missed dive," McCormick said.

"AGAIN, if we dive well and I don't have anyone blow a dive we should stand a chance. I can see us winning it and I can see us finishing as low as fourth," McCormick said.

Montclair is a team which also has swimming coach Celeste Sonnenberg concerned, and in addition she's worried about Summer Haven of Florissant, Mo.

Montclair and Summer Haven, Sonnenberg answered when asked which teams she most feared as her team prepares for the SWISA swimming meet which is scheduled for Saturday, Aug. 4, at Paddlers.

"MONTCLAIRE is a growing club and Summer Haven has several strong high school swimmers," Sonnenberg said.

"I don't know what our chances are of winning, or do I want to guess or make a prediction. I'm somewhat superstitious," Sonnenberg said.

"We're going to have to swim tough and out of our heads. It's going to be close, and once it starts I'm not going to coach. I'm just going to sit back and watch."

Like McCormick, Sonnenberg sees the success of a few as an integral part to the whole team's success. Citing eight swimmers, Sonnenberg said it was important for Jenny Baker, 9-10 girls; Larry Curry, 9 boys; Patrick Curry, 10 boys; Vince Darnell, 13-14 boys; and Danny Niles, 11-12 boys, to do well if Paddlers are to retain their championship.

"TO HELP prepare her swimmers for the SWISA championships, Sonnenberg has devised a three-phase, nine-day plan leading up to the championships."

Beginning Wednesday, the day after defeating Summersport, Sonnenberg instituted her plan. On Wednesday, Paddlers' practices consisted of 3,500 meter laps. Her plan is to decrease that distance daily until the day of the meet.

The decreasing laps, Sonnenberg explains, enables swimmers a workout while gradually providing a resting period before the championships.

While Sonnenberg's demands of her swimmers decrease daily, she intensifies her stroke requirements. "As we decrease their laps, we concentrate on improving their strokes, turns and starts," Sonnenberg said.

Her second phase for victory includes mental preparation. "This involves a lot of psychology, getting them ready for the meet."

And lastly, Sonnenberg's third plan for victory includes focusing attention on the relays, the events where many believe swim meets are either won or lost.

working on relay starts. This involves a lot of individual attention, something that they (the swimmers) all seem to thrive on. It's time consuming, but if it works it's well worth it," Sonnenberg concluded.

Alton Optimists Drub Them Regular season ends on a losing note for Mitchell Junior Legion

By CHARLIE SKAER

MITCHELL — Fans of the Mitchell Junior American Legion baseball team have had plenty to cheer about this season, as their squad has been on top of the league's standings during most of the summer.

There was plenty of cheering Tuesday, when Mitchell took an 18-5 record into the last regular season game. However, the shouts were of a completely different breed.

"You guys want to play tonight?" complained one fan after watching three straight errors. "Let's wake up!"

THE ALTON Optimists gave Mitchell their worst defeat of the season Thursday with a 10-2 blowout that left Mitchell coach Myron Merz dismayed.

"I tell you, there's no way we're going to beat anybody in the playoffs if we play like we did tonight," said Merz. "ANYBODY if we play like tonight."

More descriptively, Mitchell gave themselves their worst defeat of the season. The team accumulated six costly errors during the contest, including three consecutive errors in the third inning on ground balls to finish has earned MAC a bye in the playoffs until Saturday when they travel to East Alton for a p.m. contest. Thus far, it's not known who Mitchell will meet. Its opponent will emerge through the first and second round of the playoff bracket.

IN THURSDAY'S game, Alton coach Keith Ehlers said Mitchell may have overlooked his squad because of the previous matchups between the two teams. Mitchell won both contests by scores of 13-11 and 20-4. "They've already established themselves as one of the top teams in the league," said Elting. "I guess they probably just came out a little lackluster."

Merz couldn't have agreed more. "I think that's it in a nutshell," he said. "I'm kind of disappointed because I thought we'd come out playing hard for the last game."

THE ERRORS made it especially tough for Mitchell starting pitcher Jeff Zukas. During one point of the game, Merz gave a word of support to his hurler while criticizing his infielders.

"That's the way to pitch them, Zuke," shouted Merz after Zukas hurled a leadoff strike. "You're going to have to keep that up because you don't have any defense behind you."

Mitchell didn't have much of an offense, either. Alton pitcher Dave Henry held Mitchell to just four hits in the ball game. The Optimists, meanwhile, needed only seven hits to score their 10 runs.

"WE GOT a lot of errors," said Alton coach Elting, referring to the errors. "But we've been real inconsistent this year. Too. It's hard to keep the kids up over the whole summer — there's just so much else going on."

"I think the top team could be defeated on any given night if the opposing team is out there hustling and the top team isn't. The coach really has to work to keep everybody up."

Optimists' batters did their best to take advantage of Mitchell's errors. The visiting team's rampage started in the second when Alton's Mark Dorsey reached first on an error by third baseman Moore.

CHARIS Taul then knocked a deep fly to left that sent outfielder Greg Ehlers diving. But Ehlers came up empty-handed as the ball dropped a few feet to his right.

While Ehlers chased the ball, Taul and Dorsey rounded the bases to give Alton a 2-0 lead. The margin increased to 4-0 in the third on three consecutive errors. Two ground balls went through the legs of shortstop Roe while a third was misplayed by third baseman Moore. The Mitchell fans were given more reason to complain when Taul came up again and hit a double to drive in two and put the score at 6-0.

The lead jumped to 8-0 in the fourth when Alan File hit a long fly with a man on first. Outfielder Ehlers misjudged the ball and both men scored on the hit.

MITCHELL finally broke the shutout in the fourth. Moore led off with a single to center, Mitchell's first hit of the night. Designated hitter Randy Burgess followed with a home run to deep left to give Mitchell their only runs of the game.

The Optimists added two more runs in the seventh off a home run by Craig Lombardi to round out the 10-2 score.

Mitchell had few scoring opportunities. Six batters grounded out during the game and five struck out. But the most discouraging figure for Merz was that 10 batters popped out in the contest.

THAT TELLS me we're getting under the ball and not on it," he said, commenting that it might be indicative of too many batters trying to hit home runs. "They say they're not trying just for home runs, but sometimes I think they are."

Mitchell ended their regular season with a 18-5 Jr. Legion record. The win boosted the Alton Optimists to 17-4.

GC Juniors win; meet Alton Optimis

By PAULA WISE

GRANITE CITY — Granite City's Junior Legion team came from behind Tuesday night to defeat Troy 6-3, and advance to the second round of the Legion League Tournament being held this week.

Granite City, which ended its regular season with an 11-13 record, entered the tournament placed sixth in its division. Troy finished the season with a 7-17 record, placing it eighth.

The win advances Granite City to the second round of the tournament where they will face Alton Optimist Thursday night. Alton finished the season at 17-4, before defeating East Alton to advance to Thursday's game.

IN TUESDAY'S Granite City contest, Troy took the lead early. After both teams had failed to score in the first, Troy put together four straight singles to take the lead 4-0.

The opposition threatened again in the third, but Granite City pitcher Jay Valbert pitched around two errors by his teammates to hold Troy scoreless.

Valbert did not have another easy inning until the seventh. In the fourth inning, he pitched out of a two-on, no-out situation without allowing a run.

In the fifth inning, Valbert was again forced to bear down as one run had already scored, and he had another runner at third base. Fortunately, he got out of the inning as Derrick Lambert lined out to third baseman, Todd Hinterser.

IN THE sixth it was much the same thing for Valbert. Roger Lewis, the Troy lead-off man, hit a ball down the third base line that Hinterser couldn't handle. The next batter, Dave Wille, sent Lewis to third as he doubled down the left-field line.

However, Valbert got out of the inning without a run scoring as he got two ground balls and a strikeout from the next three batters.

Valbert, who earlier had been doubtful as a starter because of a sore elbow, came through to pitch out of several key situations and get the win for Granite City.

"His elbow had been hurting earlier today," said Granite City coach Paul Kacer. "We weren't sure if he was going to be able to go."

"HE DID a good job tonight though. It seemed like he was bearing down whenever he got in trouble. It looked like he reached back for something extra when there were runners on."

Granite City scored all six of its runs in the fourth and fifth innings.

The local team added four runs in the fourth as it took the lead 4-2. Jamie Hogan, Todd Adamitis, Hinterser, and Valbert all had hits for Granite City.

In the fifth inning, a homerun into right center field by Hinterser accounted for both Granite City runs. Hogan scored from first, and Hinterser after he had reached on a single.

ONE DARK spot that may prove to be a problem for Granite City is as an injury to starting catcher, David Bamber.

Bamber, who was forced from the game after just three innings Tuesday night, injured his right ankle in a game Monday night. Kacer said his chances of being able to play in Thursday night's game were 50-50 at best.

Bamber's substitute behind the plate in Tuesday's game was Todd Adamitis. Although Adamitis had not seen action behind the plate all day he did a good job defensively, as well as offensively.

"We wanted to get his bat in the lineup, that was the main reason for the change," said Kacer. "He caught a couple of years ago, so he knows what he's doing back there."

Kacer also stated that if they were needed, Tim Hogan and Tim Patterson could also be possible replacements for Bamber.

Tonight's game with Alton Optimists will be held at Gordon Moore Park in Alton. The game is scheduled for 6 p.m.

Closing thoughts on the first Prairie Games

"This is not sport." I appeal to every single sportsman not to come to the Olympic Games for political purposes or commercial exploitation. If this is not accomplished, the Olympic movement and all sport is doomed. We shall retreat into barbarism.

Lord Killanin, IOC chairman, in 1974 after several international athletic events were dominated by politics rather than athletes. Killanin's comments were directed at the international sports community, but the warning is applicable to the Prairie Games.

The torch of Illinois' first Prairie State Games has been extinguished for four days now, but the memory of the first Games will live long in the minds of the athletes and the media who covered the prestigious event.

In its initial session the Prairie State Games were, without a doubt, a huge success. To orchestrate an affair of its magnitude, the organizers have accomplished an overwhelming feat. They deserve the thanks and praise of everyone who participated and covered the event.

Overall, the Games run with surprising efficiency for its first year... which brings me to a few points I now wish to discuss.

The Prairie State Games are what Illinois athletics have needed for some time — an opportunity for amateurs to compete in summer months, unaffiliated with high schools, the Illinois High School Association, the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the United States Soccer Association. So far, it's absolutely void of any political ties. I'll be interesting to see how long the Games remain unaffiliated.

Jim Stranz, coach of the Southern Region men's scholastic soccer team, called the Games' unaffiliation one of the contributing factors to his accepting a coaching position. On Sunday, the day of the soccer championships, Stranz hinted that political strife in the USSF and even in Southern Illinois is contrary to the objective of athletics.

A problem I can see arising on the horizon in the Prairie State Games is what Stranz fears most, political affiliation. Granted, as the Games become of age and gain more popularity, there will be people who seek to "jump on the bandwagon." As interested parties seek a place on the Wagon, I can envision closer affiliation of the Games with the Chicago area.

Such an affiliation will probably improve the Games, make them perhaps a bit more organized.

Sports on the Run

By Al Gerstenekker

But, as Southern Regioners, persons in Granite City, Collinsville, Belleville — anyone and everyone who cares for the Games and its ideals should be somewhat wary of too close an affiliation with northern Illinois.

A close affiliation with northern Illinois will probably benefit the media. Whenever, the IHSA or northern Illinois sports enthusiasts arrange an event, the media treatment is superb.

However, I don't think it's a fair trade off. Conditions may not have been optimum last weekend, but it was refreshing as well as unaffiliated.

A friend of mine whose interest in the Games were in the aquatic sports was concerned that a northern region — the one up along the northern shore of Lake Michigan but will remain anonymous — signed several athletes after the registration deadline. Needless to say, that unnamed region fared quite well in the final team standings, finishing first or second in each of four divisions.

I realize the thing that makes the Games work is money. And a considerable amount of the green stuff has been donated by Chicago-based industrialists and businessmen, but unless I'm mistaken, so have contributions come from Southern Illinoisans as well as contributors from the other six regions.

Financial contributions should not be a barometer as to where the Games are played or who organizes them.

Case in point. Twelve years ago, the Illinois High School Association state soccer championships were held in Bloomington-Normal at Illinois State University. The championship tournament remained there for two years before it moved to DeKalb, about 150 miles to the north.

After one year in DeKalb, it came back to ISU's Hancock Stadium (1975) for a year before moving to Maine East High School in Park Ridge. Yep, you guessed it. Right in the suburbs of Chicago.

Since then, the state tournament has returned once to DeKalb (1977) and once to ISU (1978). The five following years the tournament has been played exclusively in northern Illinois, under the watchful eye of northern Illinoisans.

Granted, Southern teams — Granite City South as well as Collinsville — have made it to the tournament and carried home a few championships, but as anyone who's ever participated or watched the tournament can tell you, nothing favors Southerners.

Point made. The following are Southern Region athletes who fared well in the first Prairie Games.

ARCHERY: The Southern Region picked three gold medals in archery out of a possible four. In the men's open, Scott Hoffarth was first followed by Scott Poston, also of Southern, second. In the women's open, Diana Hoffarth, Scott's mother, grabbed a gold medal while Rose Craig captured the bronze.

In the men's scholastic division, Belleville's Mike Grass was a gold medal winner. In competition Friday, Grass set a national junior archery record of 326 points at a distance of 30 meters. Grass, incidentally, went on to be selected as the best male athlete in the Games.

BASKETBALL: Perhaps the Southern Region's biggest letdown came in basketball. Finishing second in the open women's division, the Southern Region could not compete with the Windy City Region which finished first in the both the scholastic men's and women's divisions. In fact, the Southern scholastic team finished eighth in a field of eight in the scholastic division.

SWIMMING: In swimming competition, three Granite Cityans competed. The best finish was by Kelly Reed, a member of Paddlers' Swim Club, who finished third in the scholastic women's 800 meter freestyle. Reed's time in the event was 10:30.62.

Granite City's other participants, Patti Martin and David Baker, did not place. The Southern Region went on to finish fourth in the scholastic women's division, seventh in the open women's division, sixth in the scholastic men's division and sixth in the men's open division.

DIVING: Granite City sent one athlete to the Games in diving. And, disappointingly, that athlete, Heather Crane, missed a medal by a single point. Finishing fourth, Crane, 14, competed against girls as much as four years older than she. The Southern Region finished seventh in the scholastic women's division.

ATLETICS: Four Granite Cityans are known to have participated in the Games' athletics division, more commonly known as track and field. Finishing best were high jumper Eric Graves and distance runner Lora Wiser. Each finishing fourth, Wiser ran 1,500 meters in 5:07.94. Graves cleared 6 feet 4 inches before bowing out of competition.

Other Granite City participants included Kim Ames and Darren Bernaix. Ames competing in the 400 meter hurdles and the running broad jump, finished eighth in each event. In the 400 hurdles she finished with a time of 1:23.41 while clearing 11 feet 11 1/4 inches in the broad jump.

Bernaix did not place the men's scholastic 1500 meters.

WRESTLING: Outside of soccer, wrestling is the sport which drew the most Southern Region contestants.

Competing in Greco-Roman style on Friday, Granite Cityan Mark Whitaker was injured in his first match. Taken to the hospital, it was revealed that Whitaker suffered a chipped vertebrae. Needless to say, he didn't wrestle the rest of the weekend.

Also in Greco-Roman, Tom Sparks finished fourth at 132 pounds. Sparks won his first match, but dropped his next two matches to fall from medal contention.

The Granite Cityan to finish highest in wrestling competition was Mike Trgovich who competed in the men's open 126-pound freestyle division. Trgovich finished second to claim a silver medal.

Other Southern Region athletes to fare well in the competition were Rick Barrett of Belleville, who finished fourth in Greco-Roman at 181 pounds. Chuck Hayden of Collinsville who finished second in Greco-Roman 220 pound competition and Bob Daum, of Belleville who finished second at 163 pounds in Greco-Roman.

But the Southern Region's biggest success in wrestling came in the heavyweight division as Collinsville's Mike Kleb, now wrestling for Missouri, picked up a gold medal in open Greco-Roman.

After the last athlete had competed, the Southern Region finished fifth in the Games with 2,207 team points, more than 1,500 points behind Governor's Cup winner North Shore with 3,755. Windy City finished with 2,560. Pioneer Region third with 2,495, and the Blue and Gray Region fourth with 2,415.

WGN-TV of Chicago, incidentally, was at the Games last weekend shooting various events for a telecast this Sunday, July 29. For those who have cable television, the Games will be broadcast from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.

For Boys, Girls

GCHS athletic physicals administered Aug. 7, 9

Student athletes attending Granite City High School this fall needing physical examinations to compete may get those examinations on either Aug. 7 or 9, according to athletic director Greg Patton.

Beginning on Tuesday, Aug. 7, at 5:30 p.m., boys wishing to compete in either the fall or winter sports seasons may get their physicals for the coming seasons at GCHS' Memorial Gymnasium.

Two days later, on Thursday, Aug. 9, girls wishing to compete in either the fall or winter sports season will have their opportunity to get physicals.

Cost of the physicals is $5.

Although physical examinations are valid for one year, Patton suggested that athletes competing in spring sports wait until winter or spring before getting examined.

Another such exam session will be scheduled later in the school year, Patton said.

Patton requested that athletes receiving physicals arrive at the gymnasium as near to 5:30 p.m. to expedite the process.

Against Spanky's Stags win 'continued' contest, 11-10

By AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — The East Alton Stags outlasted the 7-4 Spanky's in two nights of slugging baseball here Wednesday night as they won the second game of a two-game series, 11-10.

The night before, the two teams had battled to an 8-8 tie in a contest stopped by the curfew at Granite City High's varsity field.

Last night's game, played with the curfew law hanging over both teams' heads, appeared headed for another tie when Manager Jim Blackledge's Stags batters came up in the bottom of the 8th frame and the scored tied, 10-10.

Scott Ackner, who took over the pitching chores for the Stags in the fifth, led off the eighth with an infield single. Jim Brown came through with a skimming single to centerfield which was mishandled for an error on the part of Bill Slotte and the streaking Acker rounded third heading for home-plate and the winning run. It appeared until Slotte's throw to shortstop Doug Peters was relayed to Joe Gasaway.

Tempers flared momentarily as Acker crashed into Gasaway attempting to jar the ball out of the sticky Spanky's catcher's grip. Acker's move on Gasaway was moved around to second. Spanky's ace reliever, Bill Humer, fanned John Schultz for the second out. And, it appeared that the two clubs would end up in another tie ballgame.

But, Ed Barret, singled to right and then Brown scored the winning run when sub outfielder, Skip Sanders mishandled the ball.

Four Spanky batters ended up with two runs batted in each. Roger Hill (four for five), Joe Gasaway two for four including a solo homer in the third, Roy Mike (three for four) and Billy Dunton (2 for 4). The Hopkins brothers paced the Stags: Dave went 4 for 4 (one rbi), and Bob 2 for 3 and three runs batted in.

In Tuesday night's 8-8 tie, Doug Orban put together a perfect night at the bat. The Southern Illinois U. at Edwardsville shortstop hit safely three times up, scored three runs and drove in three tallies.

Mike Roy, newcomer to the Spanky's from Waterloo High by the way of Western Kentucky U., blasted a two-run homer in Tuesday's game to force the game into a 8-8 curfew tie.

Last night's game was switched from Alton's Gordon Moore Park to permit the American Legion tourney to play.

The Stags are now 20-13-1, while Spanky's dropped to a 33-16-1 mark. Spanky's will play Shiloh, Ill., in a Metro East League game tonight at Edwardsville's Hoppe Field.

ticipate. Divisions for the '84 classic include men's, women's and mixed teams.

Following competition which begins at 11 a.m., persons are invited to attend the steak social-awards dinner which follows at the Madison Lions' Club 910 Madison Ave.

TC Booters earn division championship

Two of the Granite City-based soccer teams reached the finals of the Seven-Up Like Cola Soccer Tournament July 7-10. However, the T.C. Booters were the only team to come away with a division championship.

The Booters, who compete in the under 15 age group, finished atop their bracket with 18 points. The Granite City team finished with one win and two ties.

In their first contest, the Booters came from behind to tie the Kentucky Kickers of Lexington, Ky., 2-2. In their second game against the Footwear Select team of St. Louis, the Booters were again forced to come from behind to score a tie.

In the Booters third game, they chalked up their only win as they defeated the Rowdies of Fairmont Park 2-0.

In the championship game, the Booters defeated Colorado Thunder from Thornton Colorado 1-0 in the finals. Mike Ziolkowski scored the game winner as he headed in a free kick from Brent Broadwater.

In the 14 and under age group, Foreman Brick won their age group with a 3-0 record. However, they were defeated 6-1 in the finals by a tough Scott Gallagher team of St. Louis.

Bass Club seeks members

The Master Casters of Granite City are seeking new members.

A bass club, they hold their monthly meetings on the first Sunday of each month at 4 p.m. at the Granite City YMCA.

Deer archery season maps made available

Persons seeking information about archery deer hunting seasons in Illinois or other states may find the information they need at a local sporting good store.

According to Nate Barg, general manager of Earl's Sporting Goods Stores, the store in downtown Granite City is offering a map of the continental United States listing opening and closing dates of deer archery season.

Barg said the maps, which are offered exclusively at the downtown location at Cleveland and 19th, are free to the public.

Matthew 7:18 "A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit."

This is a positive statement. There is no way to misinterpret the meaning of Jesus' words. If the tree is good then the fruit will be good.

Let common sense tell you what Jesus means by fruit. It is the sum total of your reaction to life.

Here is where we must be truthful with ourselves. If we are good then our fruit will be good. If we are not good then our fruit will be bad. We may be sure that we are good, but we are depressed, angry, full of hostility, never kind or compassionate, our fruit is not good. This reveals to us the tree is not good.

This admission is the beginning of a good tree bearing good fruit. Give your life to God. Ask Him to make you what HE wants you to be and be fruitful unto God.

SIUE coordinator to replace prairie

By TOMMYE WALTER

Young people of Illinois will have a great opportunity to keep in touch with their environmental roots if Frank Kulfinski, coordinator of Environmental Studies at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, has his way.

Last year, Kulfinski was one of the persons spearheading an effort to re-establish an American prairie on the university campus. However, the prairie got off to a bad start.

TORRENTIAL RAINS washed away many of the seeds on the 25-acre plot along Bluff Road before they had a chance to germinate. The rains were followed by a long period of high temperatures, which also did little to promote the growth of the five species of native grasses and 30 varieties of wild flowers.

The track record for the field is doing better this spring. "The grasses came through the winter beautifully. And some of the seeds that didn't come up last summer came up this spring," Kulfinski said.

To replace some of the lost seed, the SIUE professor and some of his staff collected seed from other locations. They were soaked in water, wrapped in plastic and placed under refrigerated conditions. "They needed a simulated winter to germinate," he said.

THE ORIGINAL SEED for the prairie was provided by Peter Schramm, a biologist at Knox College who has spent his professional life learning how to establish prairies.

Mark Hall, an environmentalist who helped establish a prairie at Gordon Moore Park in Alton, provided additional seed this spring.

Some seed were strewn over the acreage, while others are being grown under controlled conditions.

WITH THE HELP of a colleague, Kulfinski located a patch of prairie flora in Collinsville containing a goodly number of liatris pycnostachya, or "blazing stars," a member of the aster family, the liatris grows exceedingly tall and bears attractive rose-colored flowers on a long spike. While the flower once bloomed in profusion on the Illinois prairie, it is rarely seen in the wild today.

The flowers in Collinsville were growing on a plot which is destined to be a housing project within a few months. "We found at least two prairie species," he said. "We think there are more. We just haven't identified them yet."

"Once it's sown," Kulfinski said, referring to the liatris, "we dug half a dozen and moved them here. They act as though they have always lived here."

KULFINSKI POINTED out that when Illinois was first settled, it was more than 50 percent prairie. He hopes that someday the SIUE prairie can be developed to the point where it can be registered with the National Arboreal Society. "It can be used for biology classes on campus, and local children can come see what Illinois used to look like as a state," Kulfinski said.

SIUE announces deferment schedule

The schedule for fee deferments during open registration for fall quarter at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has been announced by Theresa Thompson, financial aid adviser in the Office of Student Work and Financial Assistance.

The schedule for deferments is as follows: Monday, Aug. 20, from 8:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m.; Tuesday, Aug. 21, from 8:30 a.m. until 7 p.m.; and Wednesday, Aug. 22, Thursday, Aug.

23, and Friday, Aug. 24, from 8:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. Deferments are due on or before Oct. 31.

STUDENTS ARE eligible for deferments if they will receive financial aid equal to the amount of tuition and fees being deferred and are making satisfactory academic progress.

They are ineligible if they have unpaid obligations at the university or if they are past due on their student loans.

Students may pick up applications in the Enrollment Office or the Office of Student Work and Financial Assistance any time. After completion, applications should be taken to the Office of Student Work and Financial Assistance.

ADDITIONAL information concerning deferments may be obtained by contacting the SIUE Office of Student Work and Financial Assistance at 1-692-3880.

Communications course slated at SIUE

A class on effective communications, one of the courses in the Supervisory Management Development Program at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, will be offered by the School of Business beginning Aug. 21.

Under the supervision of the Center for Management Studies, the seminar is scheduled on Tuesdays from 6:30 until 9:30 p.m. in Room 3102 of Classroom Building II. Registration is $25.

"EFFECTIVE Communications" deals with improving and increasing foreman and middle manager communications skills.

Other workshops in the Supervisory Management Development

Program will be offered in the upcoming months. These include workshops on work methods analysis, employee coaching, computers in the workplace, report writing, accounting and finance for non-financial managers, managing time and tasks, problem solving, team building, issues in productivity and motivation. The completion of at least eight courses is required in order to receive a supervisory management certificate.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting James F. Miller Jr., director of the Center for Management Studies, at 1-692-2668.

REFRESHING THE PRAIRIE. Frank Kulfinski, coordinator of Environmental Studies at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, and his graduate assistant, Louise Raimondo, Greenwich, Conn., check out some of the wild flowers recently moved to the campus prairie. The prairie was established last year because Kulfinski feels that young people should have an opportunity to keep in touch with their environmental roots. (SIUE Photo)

Elderhostel offers opportunities for senior citizens

By TOMMYE WALTER

It's the middle of summer and the bicycle paths of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville (SIUE) are frequented by seniors, strolling hand in hand. They line up in the University Center for breakfast, do a bit of table-hopping and it's off to classes.

Following the lunch break, it's back to the classroom, then to the Vadalabene Center for a quick swim in the indoor pool. In the evenings, there are ethnic dinners, and on some days, a field trip to historically significant spots, such as the Cahokia Mounds or the St. Louis riverfront.

ONE MIGHT be moved to ask what is so unusual about that? Many students attend classes during the summer at SIUE.

What makes this situation different is that these students are not traditional seniors. The term "senior" refers not to their class level, but to their age group. They are senior citizens attending the Elderhostel Program.

Elderhostel is a nationally recognized educational program, allowing people 60 years of age or older to spend a week at a college or university campus of their choice for a minimal amount of expense.

THE SENIORS can enroll in up to three non-credit classes, which require no homework or no testing. In addition, they are treated to various forms of entertainment, along with a number of interesting field trips to nearby places.

Established in 1975 on five university campuses in New Hampshire, the program is now being offered at more than 600 college and university campuses. Participation has grown from 200 participants that first year to 80,000 people in 1983.

Last year, the seniors attending one of the Elderhostel weeks at SIUE were treated to a surprise. They were featured on CBS's Early Morning News.

THIS IS Jack and Kathleen Frazier's fourth Elderhostel. They have attended others in North Dakota, West Virginia and Utah. Where will they go next? It's anybody's guess since part of the fun is in choosing the campus.

Like Kathryn Elmore of Rock Bridge, Ill., and Vaneta Entrenkin of Greenfield, the Fraziers chose to visit SIUE because of its classes. The SIUE session includes classes in the history of St. Louis jazz, the shaping of America by its major immigrant groups and the Cahokia Mounds.

Frazier is a retired mathematics teacher, Mrs. Frazier, a housewife. When asked if she was retired, Frazier's wife answered, "I don't know. I just know I never stop being a nurse."

MRS. KATHRYN Elmore agreed. Also a widow, Mrs. Elmore operates the farm that she and her husband once ran. "I call myself a farmerette," she said.

A widow, Mrs. Entrenkin is a retired nurse. Though she admits that one never really stops being a nurse, "You never say goodbye to nursing. There is always something you can do in the community," she said. "Groups are always lucky to have a nurse with them," Mrs. Frazier said.

AS THE SENIORS finished breakfast, and prepared to go to class, Mike O'Dea of Wilmette approached the table. A senior at the university majoring in television/radio, O'Dea was one of the students working with the program. On this particular morning, he was awarding gold stars to those waking to breakfast.

The stars were greeted with broad smiles. As the seniors slipped by, the stars are gathering, both on the seniors' lapels and in their eyes. Tomorrow there would be more experiences to enjoy, more trails to explore. And more adventures promised at some other campus next year.

Fall courses teach computer basics

Belleville Area College has three fall courses that will teach students to use their microcomputer to their best advantage. And they won't have to learn to program.

Several new classes at BAC this fall will focus on using computers and packaged software programs. Students get hands-on experience on the computers.

WORD PROCESSING Using Microcomputers will teach students to write and edit on computers.

Data Base Management Using Microcomputers will teach students how to file information in the computer for easy recall and sorting.

The third microcomputer class will be useful for budgeting and financial statements. Electronic Spreadsheet Using Microcomputers will teach students to use an electronic spreadsheet to ease financial record-keeping.

Registration for fall classes is underway. Students may register from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays and from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Fridays at the Registrar's Office at the main campus, 2500 Carlyle Road, Belleville.

GCC class helps students learn

If students study hard, but still have problems in school, the Lozano Learning Techniques class being offered by Granite City Center of Belleville Area College may be the answer.

This class helps students develop and use the full resources of their brain in the learning process. The class will focus on speed-reading techniques, memory enhancement, stress management and relaxation techniques using the Lozano methods for accelerated learning.

THIS COURSE is ideal for returning students because it can help them develop the confidence needed to succeed in the classroom. It can help the average student improve academic performance.

It is apparent that the demand to adopt certain types of children far exceeds the available supply. There is a real shortage of healthy Caucasian babies while black, oriental, older and handicapped children needing to be adopted often cannot be placed. For many couples, the waiting becomes unbearable, and some turn to means out of the ordinary to find children.

Some couples have turned to a surrogate parent to provide them with a child. In these cases, a sperm donor or a surrogate mother is paid a fee to act in the role of the party that is infertile. Surrogate parenting, however, poses a vast number of questions for which answers do not exist. Some questions posed involve the legitimacy of the children, custody rights, rights of inheritance, and the obligation of the parents to go through with the arrangement. Unfortunately, the Illinois legislature has not yet addressed most of these issues.

In a recent New York case, the question arose as to whether or not a couple due to accept a surrogate child had to proceed with the arrangement if the child was born defective. In this case, the husband donated sperm to fertilize a surrogate mother after it was discovered his wife could not bear children. When the child was born genetically defective, the couple refused to accept the child and sued for the return of monies paid to the surrogate mother. After intense publicity and amid much bitterness between the parties, the case was settled out of Court with the surrogate mother receiving her fee and the couple finally accepting the child.

Other couples who are desperate to become parents sometimes consider offering financial incentives to women who are willing to provide them with a healthy child. This is known as a "black market" adoption, and such activities are strictly prohibited under Illinois law. Sometimes stories surface in newspapers about couples who are willing to pay thousands of dollars and about women, usually young and unwed, who are willing to accept substantial sums of money for infants.

It should be noted that Illinois law places restrictions on such payments, and only a licensed child welfare agency may be paid for placing out a child. Violation of this law is a Class A misdemeanor, punishable by up to 364 days in jail and a $1,000.00 fine. Because of these penalties provided by law, Illinois has basically eliminated the financial incentive in black market babies.

Church Women attend Ecumenical Assembly

Seven delegates representing Quad-City Church Women United were among the 2,800 participants at the 10th Ecumenical Assembly of Church Women United, held on the campus of Purdue University at West Lafayette, Ind., July 19 to 23.

Those from Granite City and Madison attending the sessions included Mrs. Ola Jones, current president of CWU, Nona Corzilius, Marian Pierson and Joyce Schrader, all past presidents, Louise Anderson and Dolores Vogler, who have served in various positions in the local unit.

The group has plans to share their knowledge and experiences upon their return.

Attracted by the assembly theme, "Come Build a New Earth, Pieces to Peace," women of different ages, races, religious traditions, economic and cultural backgrounds gathered with a common purpose to seek solutions that will restore wholeness to a world torn by injustice and violence.

The assembly provided opportunities for inspiration and spiritual enrichment, interaction and networking, "visioning for the future and training to strengthen individual peace building efforts."

"It was a unique opportunity to share concerns and seek solutions with a diverse community of women," Mrs. Corzilius said.

Four major evening sessions featured two addresses and two special events. The outgoing National President of CWU, Dr. Thelma C. Adair of New York City, and member of the Presbyterian Church opened the session challenging her audience to work and try "new postures" for peace. On a Friday evening, time was devoted to celebrating the fact of the nearly 100-year old World Day of Prayer observance.

The following evening, Elise Boulding, Dartmouth professor of Sociology, helped assembly participants image the future and Sunday night featured an international cultural event with the black feminist women's quartet, "Sweet Honey in the Rock."

Women from 62 nations participated in the assembly, some 200 of them coming the week prior to the sessions to Purdue to meet with one another and key CWU leaders and discuss issues of the U.N. Decade for Women, peace, equality, and development.

This group contributed much to the 10-voice International Choir featured at the opening session and heightened the drama of the dedication of the 1.5-mile long "ribbons of peace" that had been painted, stitched, embroidered, needlepointed and brought together, the result of the dream of Justine Merritt of Denver, Colo.

Church Women United is the national ecumenical movement that brings Protestant, Roman Catholic and Orthodox women together into one Christian "community of caring." It represents a broad spectrum of religious tradition, race, age, economic status and ethnic background and works through a national unit, 52 state units (including ones in greater Washington D.C. and Puerto Rico) and 1,800 local units in support of the empowerment of women, human rights, justice and peace.

The newly elected president is Sylvia Talbot of Atlanta and a member of the African Methodist Episcopal Church.

Her handmade article was featured in the June-July issue of Annie's Pattern Club Newsletter. Mrs. Duffield learned the art of crochet at age eight and later was taught new crochet stitches that motivated her to create new designs.

Local woman wins national recognition for craft item

Mrs. Eileen Duffield, of Granite City, has won national recognition for excellence in needlecraft design with a handy "Crochet Caddy" published in Annie's Pattern Club Newsletter.

Mrs. Duffield learned crochet when she was 8 years old. Later, her mother-in-law taught her some more crochet stitches. After being a real estate agent for many years, Mrs. Duffield is now a homemaker who spends her time enjoying her family and crafts.

Mrs. Duffield's "Crochet Caddy" was featured in the June-July issue of Annie's Pattern Club Newsletter. Published every other month, it features original needlecraft patterns with complete instructions and full color photos.

New services to benefit BPW members

Illinois State Membership Chairman Betty Kelley was the featured speaker at the Granite City BPW Club dinner meeting held at Raynolds' Restaurant.

Mrs. Kelley, also director of purchasing at St. Joseph's Hospital in Alton, announced BPW has many new member services that will benefit women who join the organization.

Viola Favier, local membership chairman, was in charge of the program and asked Mrs. Kelley to outline the new benefits so others will be informed and encourage prospective members who would be interested in the program.

During her presentation, Mrs. Kelley said, "Join BPW if you are seeking recognition in the labor market, seeking training for career advancement, wanting to invest money wisely, or seeking a scholarship or loan to help you re-enter the job market. Also, member loans, car buy lease programs, tour programs and new insurance coverages are available to members."

Joyce Benington, club president, reviewed plans to attend the BPW National Convention and participate in tours that are planned by BPW for members while they are visiting in Nashville, Tenn.

The guest speaker elaborated on tour programs for BPW members noting that vacation tours include three trips this year one to London with an additional week in Scotland and Ireland, as the initial one offered. The second one is to Hawaii with side trips to Las Vegas and San Francisco and the third is to Monte Carlo to include a trip to Paris, France.

"I would like to hear more on how to get a membership loan to purchase a new car," one member commented. Mrs. Kelley gave the name of the company to call or write and explained that unsecured loans up to $5,000, payable up to five years, are available upon approved credit. The complete process is confidential and at this time over $2,000,000 has been loaned to members, she added.

What makes the loan even more attractive is that as BPW members one can buy a car as a group through one dealer at a reduced rate. BPW vehicles are delivered for a charge of approximately $100 by your local dealer, the speaker said. Mrs. Kelley continued by saying the delivery charge is agreed to in advance and is built into the selling price before the need for expensive and time consuming sales persons, and the savings are passed on directly to members.

Another member service is insurance. Mrs. Kelley said that there are many programs which include life and medical insurance, accident plan, income protection plan and if members are interested they can write to the company located in Chicago.

Today, as more and more women are wanting to know about investing, an investment program is also available by the same insurance company. This is a mutual fund saving account and it can be started with as little as $250 and additions to the program can be in increments as small as $50.

This is a good vehicle to use for IRA or Keogh savings as well as regular savings. The program is with an insurance company and each month members receive an informative newsletter as well as a monthly statement of her account, Mrs. Kelley announced.

In summarizing her program, Mrs. Kelley said, "do not be afraid to ask a new member to come because you may not be able to afford to buy her dinner. Simply tell your guest the cost of the meal and seat her next to an interesting member who is enthusiastic. After she becomes a member, the key to keeping her interested is to get her involved on a committee."

For further information concerning the Granite City BPW organization those interested are advised to contact Mrs. Favier at 451-1331 after 6 p.m.

dad and grandpa, ED-grandpa I wish I were enough to have known you.

Mommy tells me a lot about you, you were quite a man.
Mommy says, I would have been the apple of your eye.
As I grow into a young man,
I'll think of you often when I see your personal belongings and things that were given to me
by grandpa. — Your grandson,
Chaz Edward Dear Father,
we miss you as much today as the day we layed you to rest. We've needed to turn to you so many times, you were always there to stand behind us, not so much because you believed in our cause, but because you loved us. — Your kids,

Public will have the right to address Nameoki Town Board

By PAT HAY LUTZ
for the Press-Record

A heated debate Monday over the adjournment of the Nameoki Town Board meetings before the public is given an opportunity to speak prompted Nameoki Township Supervisor Harry Briggs to agree to routinely put "For the Good of the Township" on the agenda for the meetings.

A recent decision by the board to adjourn the meeting before allowing members of the audience to discuss issues angered several residents, who argued that they have the right to have their comments officially recorded in the minutes of the meeting.

CALLING THE ACTION "Ridiculous," Breckenridge Lane residents Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barringer argued that trustees were "afraid of fire" and voted to close the meeting before "for the good of the township" so that they would not have records of complaints and promises.

"We are here to jack our jaws unofficially, and listen to what they (the board members) have to say," Barringer said. "We want official records of what is being said."

Trustee Helen Hawkins voted against the motion to close the meeting, but she was outvoted.

meeting made by Trustee W. Lee Adams two weeks earlier, and reaffirmed his position Monday night.

"I was and still am in favor of keeping the meetings open," she said. BRIGGS ACCEPTED Trustee Joe Garcia's suggestion to put "for the good of the township" on the agenda after "communications," with time limitation, but the action was unofficial, since the meeting had already been adjourned.

"For the good of the township" was a part of the agenda for many years before being dropped.

In other business, trustees followed the advice given by the Highway Department's attorney, H. Carl Runge Jr., during the last meeting and passed a resolution accepting the Shirlene Drive and Clinton Drive stormwater holding ponds into the township.

Runge had advised that the holding ponds, although they were deeded to the township, were never officially accepted into the township. The lack of such an action spawned conflict over who had the responsibility to maintain the ponds.

AFTER PASSAGE of the resolution, Briggs stated that negotiations will begin between the highway department and the health department over maintenance of the ponds.

Residents of Breckenridge Lane again voiced complaints about blockage of the "farmer's ditch" in that area caused by the construction of a new home. Demanding that the board remove dirt that is blocking the ditch, Fred Barringer referred to an earlier promise by Briggs to clear the ditch.

"You promised us that you would be in there the next day," he stated, but Briggs argued that the town board does not have the equipment or authority to clear the ditch.

Briggs told Barringer that the highway commissioner, Frank Mehelec, is responsible for the work and that the board does not have governmental control over Mehelec.

"WE CAN ASK him to do it, but we can't make him do it," Briggs said.

When Barringer argued that the board should have control over the highway commissioner, Trustee Joe Garcia complained about the tactics board members must sometimes use to persuade Mehelec to act.

"We practically have to kiss his yaya to get him to do something around here because we don't have any control over him," Garcia said.

IN OTHER BUSINESS, Briggs tabled a motion from Garcia to demand that the individual who performs the annual audit be a certified public accountant.

Garcia made the motion because at least two past audits are in danger of non-compliance because, although they were contracted and signed by a C.P.A. firm, the actual work was done by a non-certified accountant.

Board attorney Irvin C. Slate Jr. told the board that, as long as the board had a contract and bills from a certified public accountant, they are in compliance.

"THE RESPONSIBILITY belongs to the firm," Slate said. "Who he (the firm's president) employs to do the pencil pushing is up to him."

Annual audits performed by an independent certified public accountant are required for the township to get federal revenue sharing funds and, if the audit fails to comply, the township could lose all of that funding.

Tax Collector Norman Hall also reported on the progress of the petition drive to put a $6.6 million school bond issue before the voters, saying that he believes that petition circulators will probably get the 10 percent of the registered voters in the school district to sign.

SOME VOTERS have been hesitant to sign the petitions, Hall said, because they thought that the petition was either promoting or opposing the issue. The petition asks only that the issue be put on a referendum, he noted.

"If the people get the message, then we'll get enough people to sign," Hall said.

About 60 to 70 people are circulating one of two petitions, one written by Hall and one distributed by the school board. The reason for two different petitions, Trustee Helen Hawkins said, is to insure that at least one of them is legal.

MRS. HAWKINS reported that conversations with the school board attorney raised some questions about the legality of Hall's petition, so she obtained a petition from the school board.

But Hall argued that his petition is as legal as the petitions circulated by board members. "If they throw mine out, I'll throw them out," Hall said.

Petitioners must get the required amount of signatures by the end of August to put the issue up for referendum.

BOARD MEMBERS also accepted the resignation of Luther Thompson, president of the Cloverleaf-East Madison Fire Protection District, and appointed David Woodard to replace him for a two-year term.

Delberta Orr, treasurer of the fire protection district, was reappointed for another one-year term.

Madison County Fair concludes with Atlanta, Demolition derby

Madison County Fair officials expect 15,000 to 20,000 people to attend this year's event, which began last Sunday and ends Friday. Fair spokesman Shirley Federer called Tuesday night "a good night for parking," and estimated that 3,000 to 4,000 persons were in attendance. No exact attendance figures are available, since no entry fee is charged at the gate.

Mrs. Federer added, "Our sales (of tickets to shows) and special events are better the last couple of days, but sales have been slow. We have plenty of tickets left."

The headline entertainment, Atlanta, takes the stage in the arena at 7 and 9 o'clock tonight. Seats in front of the stage are $7, box seats are $5 and general admission is $4 for adults and $1 for children. Tickets will be on sale at the arena entrance an hour before each show.

Carnival rides will continue until 11 o'clock tonight, and the pavilion will feature free entertainment by the Del Rios Band at 8 p.m.

As the fair comes to a close Friday, a 4-H livestock auction on the show barn beginning at 6:30 p.m. will give buyers an opportunity to bid on and purchase animals raised by 4-H members.

The Men's Demolition Derby begins in the arena at 7:30 p.m. Friday. Box seats are $5 and general admission is $4.50 for adults and $1 for children.

Friday, the carnival rides will be open from 4 to 11 p.m., while an arts and crafts show is scheduled from 2 to 9 p.m. in the ballroom. Free entertainment by the Gold River Band begins at 8 p.m. Friday under the pavilion.

There is no entry fee to the grounds, but a parking fee of $1 per vehicle is collected at the parking lot.
